It is easier than you think to do it by yourself and so clever to use materials and techniques to have a new, stylish, cozy living room in a weekend only.

Come and get to work together!

Here are the usual shapes of a living room.

1. There is no limit to use furniture items in an exact space but the 1st point is to combine sizes. For example, a huge table will not look great in a small space, as a tiny one will get disappeared in a huge room, also.

2. Here you are set to mention, who uses the room. A single person or a family, young people who use gadgets or elder who love maybe, books and relaxing times on comfy armchairs? A cute baby perhaps, would love to run among furniture items.

Round forms help in avoiding injuries and they are practical in people's movements. An open space is helpful to people, who need to feel easy getting from one to another room.

3. Now you should think about the style.

I suggest you some of the easiest to mix to, so your result can not look messy.

There are so many styles for a living - room but it is easy to follow tips on styles which can easily get their special common characteristics. In this way you avoid mistakes.

5. Here is the secret for you. You are set to go out for shopping. You will not do that yet. You have an adorable trip in your own house. No! You are not crazy. If you get slowly in each single room you can find treasures. Think of the chic basket staying hidden in your bedroom.

It can move into the living room adding beauty in a corner holding books or magazines even toys or a soft sofa blanket. Remind the picture on the wall. Maybe it looks better above your sofa. What about the armchair in the storage? Is it a smart idea to apply on it a colorful piece of fabric? Look! It gets new in appearance. In this way you can add shelves from the balcony or rugs from another space.

6. You can borrow some items from a relative or friend. Exchange items. Repair old ones. Discover vintage masterpieces or paint on them. You can upcycle any item you think it would add points of style in there. Do think of small other items too. Vases, flowers, bottles, decorative stones, boxes, cases, boards can transform your spaces magically.
